Dana joined Adolescent Health Initiative after graduating with her Bachelors of Science in Psychology from the University of Michigan. Dana has prior experience in health care and event planning and management and is passionate about mental health awareness and support as well as bridging health care access disparities for underserved populations.

Kaleigh Cornelison (right) joins as AHI's Program Specialist. Kaleigh obtained her master's degree in social work from Washington University in St Louis and her bachelor's in Communication Studies from the University of Michigan. She spent 10 years working in youth-serving nonprofits, schools, and health care.
